Bill Number and Description House Bills
#B-92 Tort Reform by ILRC; The legislation changes several points in tort law to elevate the equirements to bring certain suits while placing caps on non-economic and punitive damages at $250,000. The legislation retains safeguards against criminal or reckless behavior. The bill places a $1,000,000 cap on the requirement to bond to stay a judgment for appeal.	SUPPORT-W	LAW
HB-121 Utility Sales Tax by Rep. Trail; The legislation would remove the exemption for gas, power, coal and other fuel utilities from the sales tax. The bill would raise an estimated $55 million from Idaho residences and businesses that would be used for public school and university facilities.	MONITOR	HeldHouse Revenue and Taxation
HB-133 Construction Defects by Builders; The legislation gives contractors a right to cure construction defects before a lawsuit related to the defect is filed. It would be applicable to all construction where the value of the construction is at least half of the value of the structure.	SUPPORT-W	LAW
HB-136aaS Rural Home site Development by Rep. Raybould; The legislation amends the current law to clarify that in counties below 100,000 in population the agricultural exemption will apply to subdivided property as long as the subdivided parcels are still being used in and agricultural operation.	SUPPORT-L	Failed in Senate
HB-148 Property Tax Appeals by Counties; The legislation would cut off one week from the period of time allowed for individuals and corporations to appeal their property tax assessments. The thought is it would give the County Board of Equalizations more time to review cases.	OPPOSE-W	Held-House Revenue and Taxation
HB-150aaS Stringency on DEQ Rules by IACI: The bill requires the Department of Environmental Quality to provide evidence of risk based science when the Departments is wanting to exceed federal standards for environmental protection.	SUPPORT-W	LAW
HB-172 50/50 Cost of Living Adjustment by Sen. Kennedy, Rep. Cuddy: The legislation would provide a cost of living adjustment equal in percentage to the annual CPI on the upper limit of $50,0000 in the 50/50 homeowners' exemption. It results in a corresponding tax shift to all other non-owner occupied and non-residential property.	OPPOSE-W	HeldHouse Revenue and Taxation
